

GENERAL HEALTH & SAFETY POLICY STATEMENT OF INTENT

At Balmoral Tanks people are our greatest assets. No other asset in the company is as important as the people that contribute to our business.

Balmoral Tanks are committed to achieving high standards of health and safety not only in respect of its own employees but also in relation to clients, visitors, contractors, members of the public that may be affected by the organisations activities.

The company is aware of its obligations under the Health and Safety at Work etc. Act 1974 and related legislation and is fully committed to meeting those obligations.

The company recognises its responsibility for providing and maintaining safe and healthy working conditions, for providing training, instruction and information to enable employees to perform their work safely.

The practical arrangements for implementing the policy of intent includes the assessment of risks to health and safety to anyone who may be affected by our work activities by removing or reducing the risks as far as is reasonably practicable and recording significant findings of the risk assessment.

Responsibilities for putting the good intentions of the policy into practice are clearly identified at all levels within the organisation.

These responsibilities ensure we have co-operation to maintain safe working conditions via safe working practices and systems, reporting defective work equipment, reporting any incidents that have led to, or may lead to, injury or harm of persons and or damage to property.

The arrangements are reviewed when new processes, equipment or substances are introduced into the business.
